Reference	Vendor Question	Answers
Technical Specifications, page 4	There are integration requirements related to Classlink. We have not built an integration with Classlink yet, but it is a straightforward integration and we have built similar integrations. Is there a requirement to have existing integrations in place with Classlink, or is it acceptable to add the development of the integration into the bid?	Classlink is preferred, but not required. Vendors must already have the capability to provide one type of integration (Classlilnk, Clever, or Google).
